

Re-entry reflection

The boxes below are designed to help you think over your overseas mission and re-entry experience and come to terms with some of your feelings. Don't be in a hurry to fill it in but do a bit at a time as you feel motivated. Walk away and come back over a period of days, even weeks. Pray into what you understand about how you feel.

When I think of the country I served in, I miss...	When I think of the country I served in, I don't miss...
In my home country I like...	In my home country I don't like...
